

Networks of Inquiry and Indigenous Education (NOIIE)

2019-20

First meeting October 28, 2019

4:00-6:30 pm in District Development Centre (Dinner provided)

NOIIE is open to all School District Educators to join

NOIIE is a provincial network that provides financial support to educators who completes an inquiry project around the pillar values of the organization. It is a year-long commitment and can be done individually, in partners & small groups.

How does it work? (There are three meetings throughout the year that guide this process for participants; please note participants must attend the meetings in order to complete the inquiry project and get funding)

- Joining the district NOIIE group provides a process to take on meaningful inquiry within your role as educator with access to inquiry projects & resources from across the province and from other member countries to support the learning journey
- There are three meetings throughout the year that guide this process for participants
- Collaboration funds are available to support the inquiry journey throughout the year
- Participants submit an inquiry proposal to NOIIE in the fall 2019
- Participants submit a final summary to NOIIE at the end of June 2020
- Sharing of learning session in June (session 3)

Once the inquiry is complete, NOIIE provides funds to educators to further their learning around the inquiry in September 2020.

Background on NOIIE

NOIIE is a provincial inquiry-based network of districts in British Columbia. Established in 2000 and funded by the BC Ministry of Education, NOIIE is designed to improve the quality and equity of education in BC through inquiry, teamwork across roles, schools and districts, as well as a focus on applying coaching forms of assessment to assist learners to take greater ownership of their learning. The vision of EVERY learner crossing the stage with dignity, purpose, and options is at the core of inquiries within the group. Schools participate on an annual basis by engaging in the Spiral of Inquiry. School questions, case studies, resources and reflections are shared in a spirit of generosity, curiosity and growth.
