

Navigating Your School Year

— End of Summer Workshop Opportunities For Teachers —

August 30-Sept 3, 2021

Charting your course for success.

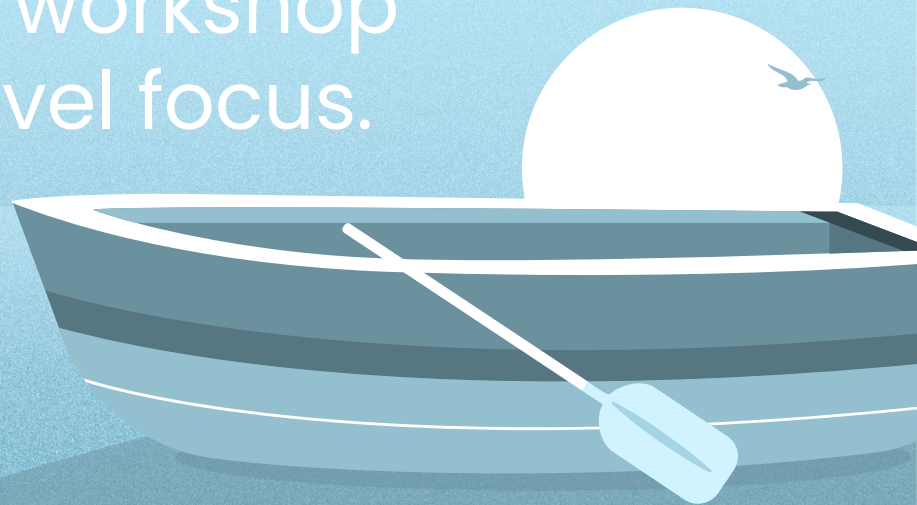

Information to share at June 2021 staff meetings.

In preparation for the 2021-22 school year,
this series of optional workshops offers teachers professional development opportunities to support curriculum planning, social emotional learning, Indigenous Ways of Knowing, and exploring recommended resources.

All teachers, K-12,
new and experienced,
are welcome to attend.

Check each workshop for grade level focus.

Early Registration due by June 25, 2021

Please note: ALL REGISTRATIONS need to be sent to Connie Stones at cstones@prn.bc.ca

Include which sessions you would like to attend and what grade level(s) or courses you expect to be teaching in September. This helps support facilitators to tailor sessions to meet your needs.

Final Registration by August 25, 2021

Sessions are in person unless noted, or Public Health Orders (PHOs) change.

Confirmation of registration and location information will be emailed to you prior to the sessions.

Michael Pruner is a high school mathematics teacher from North Vancouver, BC and a past president of the BC Association of Mathematics Teachers (BCAMT). Teaching for 25 years, he has always had an ever-changing mix of Math 8 through to AP Calculus and has recently discovered a passion for developing Thinking Classrooms. Michael believes that mathematics is a social endeavour and is best learned through collaborative activity in rich tasks. Through the BCAMT, Michael has had the privilege of visiting classrooms all across Canada sharing his experience and knowledge of developing and maintaining Thinking Classrooms. Michael is also a PhD student at Simon Fraser University in Mathematics Education.
